

Permissions letter for your images to be posted at www.kitchenercamp.co.uk

Dear Content Owner -

The administrators of www.kitchenercamp.co.uk understand that you are the owner of the images you wish to have posted on this website.

We would like to include your images on the website, which is viewable, freely, online.

Important note: For practical and financial reasons we are unable to run this website indefinitely. We intend to hand over administration and ownership of the website to the Wiener Library for the Study of the Holocaust and Genocide in 2019. This is being done so that the materials go to an 'appropriate institution', by which we mean:

- a) a longstanding institution with a secure future; and
- b) an institution committed to, and well known for, promoting education and information about the Holocaust.

Once this handover has been completed, you will need to contact the Wiener Library if you should no longer wish the project to maintain your materials.

If you agree to having your materials included on the website, please sign this permission letter. Once signed, you may photograph or scan this letter and return it to us by email. The image must be clear, and you should keep a copy for your own records.

We are unable to post materials online without a signed permissions letter.

By signing below, I am stating that I have the right to grant the permission requested, and that I hereby provide you with that permission.
